

The Mobile Register and The Richmond Times insist that Congress must repeal the 10 per cent. tax on state bank circulation. They evidently think there is life in the old wildcat yet, and are bound to give it a chance to show itself.

Weaver, the late candidate of the People's Party, has issued an address congratulating the public upon the result of the Presidential election. This seems to be Weaver's unique way of assuring the people that it is a good thing he was beaten.

The one thing that distresses the hordes of Democratic place hunters is that the great work of turning the Republicans out of the offices won't begin until next spring. The grand army of the hungry and thirsty will simply have to forage for their winter provender.

Now that the smoke of battle has cleared away somewhat, there is no reason why Governor Flower shouldn't remove Labor Commissioner Peck if he believes that official has been dealing in dishonest statistics. But does the Governor really believe anything of the kind?

The lusty rooster is a prominent feature of the Democratic newspapers these days. A jubilant, high-stepping, loud-crowling rooster is he. He wears spurs, his head is thrown well back and he looks every inch the monarch of all he surveys. A fine bird. But then the bird which will have the floor, or rather which will be tabled, a little later in the month, meaning the Thanksgiving turkey, will be more generally popular.

Even under a system of Free-trade the Democrats would have to provide a revenue, says The Commercial Gazette. If taken off certain articles upon which it has been placed to afford our people some protection against foreign competition, a Tariff must be placed on other articles. Sugar, tea and coffee, now free, would offer temptations to Tariff reformers, since they are largely consumed in this country, and would yield a large revenue. The old Democratic scheme is, in order to help a few manufacturers to free raw material, to tax our people on common articles of household use.

President Cleveland should remember that he had no more earnest and loyal supporter at Chicago and all through the campaign than James E. Campbell, and there is nothing too good for our popular and worthy ex-governor, says The Mansfield (O.) Shield. When all the anti-Cleveland elements at the Chicago Convention wanted to concentrate on Campbell, and the Ohio delegation wanted to give him their solid support, Mr. Campbell refused the use of his name and stood loyally by Mr. Cleveland. Had Campbell been a candidate it would have been difficult for Mr. Cleveland to have secured the nomination. The incoming President could not do a more popular thing than to place Mr. Campbell in the Cabinet, because he is both worthy and well fitted for such a place.

It is distressing, says The Lexington Leader, to note dispatches in the Eastern papers from the industrial towns of New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Maine and other manufacturing states, telling of the tendency to curtail production, run on short hours, countermand large contracts, &c., pending the settlement of the Tariff question by the incoming Democratic administration. Uncertainty is disastrous to industrial prosperity, and the sooner the Free-trade leaders do the worst they have threatened the better it will be for every interest. The Tariff is not a new and unknown quantity, and the Democrats have professed a perfect knowledge of its innermost processes. Let them grapple with the situation without unnecessary delay.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Bits of News That Will Interest "Ledger" Readers.

THEY'LL ALL BE BAD.

Cattletown Democrat.—There should be no scarcity in eggs and poultry next year. The crop of roosters was never before so large in the United States.

STAY AT HOME.

Frankfort Call.—Frankfort has a greater number of social clubs than any town of its size in the state, and if the people don't enjoy themselves and have a good time this winter they had better move to New York and join Ward McAllister's "400."

SAMPLE DEMOCRATIC LIES.

Bourbon News.—A Massachusetts lumber dealer has discharged seven of his workmen who voted for Cleveland. He is afraid that the duty on Canadian lumber will be repealed, "which would lower the price" of his stock. And so it is only before election that the foreigner pays duty.

UNFORTUNATE JOLLIFICATION.

Huntington Herald.—The Democratic jollification last night at Gallipolis was attended by numerous misfortunes. A wagon of fireworks was set off by a dropping rocket. Instantly the contents of the wagon took fire and shot in every direction. Horses became frightened and the streets were alive with runaways. Several persons were injured.

After the jollification the news came of the drowning of Darius Ward, while returning to his home back of town. He had imbibed freely and fell into a creek.

A COW NEXT.

Commercial Gazette.—"People have strange notions of what the mails should carry," said Assistant Postmaster Muller yesterday. "We capture all sorts of things. To-day there was found in one of the sacks opened in this office two pounds of butter, done up separately, and inclosed in nothing but thin pieces of cheese cloth and common brown paper. It is against the law to send such a thing as butter through the mails, and it is fortunate the sack with the butter in it did not get thrown near a hot stove, for much valuable matter might have been ruined by the grease."

HUNGRY FOR PIE.

Sentinel Democrat.—So far as heard from, the following ladies and gentlemen want the Mt. Sterling Postoffice: W. A. Cockrell, C. G. Glover, George C. Everett, M. A. Scott, Mrs. C. D. Redmon, F. W. Bassett and Mrs. Priest, and the following gentlemen want Jo K. Bates's shoes as Deputy Collector: B. F. Wyatt, M. O. Cockrell and H. L. Jones. Congressman Lisle holds the key to the situation and no amount of work and worry will avail anything. Long petitions signed by men, who have signed a dozen other like petitions are a mockery, and will do no earthly good.

Caught Again.

Says The Commercial Gazette: Detectives Wapenstein and Sandford of Covington yesterday arrested William Hester, a colored hostler at Anderson's stable on Walnut street, and turned him over to Constable Dawson of Maysville, who will take him back to Kentucky. He was arrested there for shooting craps and made his escape from the jail while the turnkey was not looking. He is a jockey well known on tracks, having worked extensively for Letcher's and Lockwood's stables.

This is the second time Hester has escaped and been recaptured. On the other occasion of his escape he was caught at Ashland by Officer Crawford of this city. He was arrested with several other colored sports last summer and fined $50 and costs for shooting craps.

The Cheekiest Woman.

Commercial Gazette.—The cheekiest woman on earth made her appearance on Trailer 155 of the Walnut Hills line early Saturday morning. It was snowing and the weather had driven the men from the smoker into the trailer. The lady did not like this and in a peevish tone of voice instructed the conductor to fire them out in order that she might have the seat she wanted. When told that they all paid fare and were entitled to as much consideration as any one else she decided to argue the matter, until the conductor refused to listen to her any longer. One of the gentlemen who was about to give up his seat suddenly changed his mind and whenever one man did get up another took his place. The indignant woman was compelled to stand until she reached Court and Broadway, when she left the car in towering indignation. She relieved her feeling by calling them "no gentlemen."

The work of tearing down M. C. Russell's esplanade building was begun this morning.

RETIRING OFFICIALS.

CIRCUIT COURT OFFICIALS WHO HAVE HELD THEIR LAST TERM.

Resolutions of Respect and Thanks to Judge Cole, Circuit Clerk Parry and Sheriff Alexander Passed by the Bar.

The October term of the Mason Circuit Court closed Saturday. It was the last court to be held by the present Judge, Clerk and Sheriff, and the members of the bar took occasion to express their appreciation of the services of these gentlemen.

After the business of the court was over L. W. Robertson arose and in a neat and appropriate speech addressed Judge Cole on behalf of the members of the bar. He spoke of the retiring official in the highest terms as Judge and gentleman. Upon motion of Mr. Robertson it was agreed that a committee be appointed to draft and have spread upon the minutes of the court, resolutions complimentary of the official conduct of the retiring Judge, Clerk and Sheriff. The following gentlemen were selected as this committee: W. H. Wadsworth, James H. Salter, A. M. J. Cochran, James N. Kehoe and L. W. Robertson. The committee meets this morning and the resolutions will be published to-morrow.

The January term of the court will be presided over by Hon. James P. Harbison of Fleming county. Isaac Woodward of Germantown will succeed Ben D. Parry as Circuit Clerk and Sheriff John W. Alexander will retire in favor of J. C. Jefferson.

Judge A. E. Cole was elected to the Circuit Judgeship of this District, as it has been, in 1880. He was then a resident of Flemingsburg but has for several years lived in this city. Prior to his election as Judge he served the people of his District as Commonwealth's Attorney. His official career has been faithful and efficient and he retires to take his place among his fellow members of the bar conscious of having done what he considered his duty. He will immediately begin anew the practice of his profession in this city.

Ben D. Parry, Circuit Clerk, has also served in his present official capacity for twelve years past. He has been a faithful and popular Clerk, always kind and accommodating to the public and the members of the bar. He retires possessed of the confidence and esteem of all the people.

Sheriff John W. Alexander has been in charge of that office for two terms, four years in all. He also served as Deputy Sheriff for several years before elected to the higher office. His administration has been marked by good judgment and fair dealing and has been highly satisfactory.

Covington Pool-Rooms.

The pool-rooms' free for all and everything privilege in the doing of business in Covington is ended at last. The rooms have as strong a grip as ever and are likely to keep on doing business at the old stands, but they will now pay the city for it. A week ago the ordinance went into effect which fines the rooms $5 a day for each day they do business.

Saturday for the first time Chief Goodson arrested all the proprietors, who appeared before the Police Judge. They all, by previous arrangement, pleaded guilty and the Judge entered the fine of $5 against each of them together with costs of $3 in each case. The money was paid down.

From this on the same course will be taken every day or week, as may be agreed on between the pool-room proprietors and the police. The result of this will be that each room will pay weekly to the city $42. There are five of the rooms, so that the City Treasurer will be $210 better off each week, while the fines are paid. As this makes $10,500 a year, the arrangement is somewhat better financially for the city than before. The rooms do not expect to be hurt by the litigation now going on in the courts, and count on a long period of existence.

The Quickest Way to Cure a Cold.

Do you wish to know the quickest way to cure a cold? We will tell you. To cure a cold quickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the system. The first symptoms of a cold is a dry, loud coughing and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by watery expectoration and the sneezing by a profuse watery discharge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin white coating on the tongue. What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double doses every hour. That will greatly lessen the severity of the cold and in many cases will effectually counteract it and cure what would have been a severe cold within one or two days time. Try it and be convinced. THE KENTUCKY SCRAMBLE.

Carlisle in the Cabinet and Breckinridge in the Senate, the Belief.

A special from Lexington to The Commercial Gazette says: "The scramble for office among the Bluegrass Democrats is becoming somewhat wonderful. I am told that Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge, who is supposed to hold the Federal appointments in the hollow of his hand, is receiving from one hundred to one hundred and fifty letters daily from office-seekers, or the friends of office-seekers, and his home is virtually overrun with aspiring Democrats anxious to assist Mr. Cleveland in his coming administration of affairs. It is also hinted that Colonel Breckinridge has the Senatorial bee buzzing in his bonnet at a lively rate. It is further stated that his close friend, John G. Carlisle, will expect a place in Mr. Cleveland's Cabinet, thus giving Colonel Breckinridge an opportunity of going to the Senate provided he can defeat the remarkable politician, Governor James B. McCreary of Madison county, should Mr. Carlisle be called to the Cabinet. It seems reasonable to suppose that Colonel Breckinridge will have decidedly the best of the argument. With the placing of nearly all the Federal patronage he can, if he be wise, so distribute his offices as to lay the wires for his election to the Senate. Colonel Breckinridge is very popular in his own District, so much so that the most ambitious politicians have been afraid to enter the race against him for Congress, and should events conspire to make him a candidate for Senatorial honors the man who beats him will know that he has made a race.

It is currently reported and generally believed that Thomas H. Shelby will have the Colonel's support for the Internal Revenue Collectors for this District. The only other candidate for this office, soft fat situation, is T. Logan Hocker, a man who has done yeoman service for the Democratic party in season and out of season. He is backed by the working element of the party, and not a few of the "boys in the trenches" are expressing themselves as being dissatisfied with Colonel Breckinridge's espousal of the cause of Major Shelby. In fact, there is considerable commotion in the Democratic lines over the turn affairs have taken. Some of the more conservative men, however, say that should Major Shelby be appointed he would reward all the workers by giving them appointments under him. There are, however, those who remember the former administration of affairs under Mr. Cleveland who are not so hopeful.

It turns out that Colonel John O. Hodges, editor of The Lexington Observer, is not an aspirant for any foreign mission, but simply wants to be Lexington's Postmaster. Nearly everybody is in favor of his appointment, and if the people of Lexington were to take a vote on the question he would be almost the unanimous choice of the people. He will no doubt receive the indorsement from his old classmate, Vice-President Stevenson, and as he, too, has done a great deal of work for his party, he is backed by the Jacksonian element of Democracy, those who believe that "to the victor belongs the spoils."

'Twas In Kentucky.

Owensboro Messenger.—Speaking of odd election bets, one of the very prettiest girls in town—how a man's mouth waters when he thinks of the girl and the bet—wagered a kiss against a dollar that Harrison would be elected. She lost, but in the five days since the result was announced the young man has not the punk to attempt a collection of the stakes. He put up his dollar in the hands of a maiden lady of uncertain age but certain homeliness. With a bright idea in her head, the young lady kissed the old maid, and when the young man calls for the kiss he will be told that he must get it from the stakeholder.

A Reliable Man.

M. J. Griner, a Justice of the Peace at Print, Mich., says one bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy saved his life. He had been down with bloody flux for three weeks when he commenced using this medicine. It soon cured him, and he believes saved his life. He also says it saved the lives of three railroad men in that vicinity. "Squire Griner is a reliable and conscientious man, and whatever he says can be depended upon. Beats Boschen's Cat Story.

Commercial Gazette.—A gentleman living on Walnut Hills has a dog named Puck, that may be called the star canine pedestrian. Recently he wished to get rid of him, and sent him to Newport. Next day he came home. Then Puck was sent to Maysville, Ky., a distance of some seventy miles. After an absence of several days he came home again. He was wet, and had evidently swam the river. A long clothes line was around his neck, which he had chewed in two. After such a demonstration of affection, the gentleman has decided to keep him.

NEXT CONGRESS.

Democrats Have a Clear Majority of Ninety.

This May Possibly Be Increased by Two From Rhode Island.

There Will Be Three Contests in the Next House, Possibly More—Republicans Fall But Seven Votes—How the Votes By States Stand Now.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—According to the latest returns the house of representatives of the Fifty-third congress will be composed as follows: Republicans, 125; democrats, 22; populists, 1; total, 354—a democratic majority of 90. This does not count the two members to be elected from Rhode Island, but the democrats claim them both. There will be at least three contests in the next house, with possibly more. True, the democratic candidate in Idaho, who was defeated by Willis Sweet, has filed his notice of contest and so has John J. O'Neill, democrat, in the Eleventh Missouri district, who claims that illegal votes were cast for Mr. Charles Joy, the republican, to whom the certificate was issued. Although no notice has yet been filed, it is understood that Donald McNaughton, democrat, in the Thirty-first New York district, will contest the seat of John Van Voorhis, and that J. Morris Finn will contest the seat of Samuel M. Stephenson, republican, a member of the present house. The Seventh South Carolina district, known as the black district, also promises its regular contest.

The third party or populist vote will not be strong in the Fifty-third congress.

They are given a voting strength of seven, but this will not be manifested on all occasions, since the populist elected from the first district of Colorado is republican, and so is Francis Newlands, of Nevada, and generally they may be counted upon as acting with the members of that party. McKelghan and Kern of Nebraska are third party men in the present house and were elected to the fifty-third congress on a fusion ticket. They will go into the Democratic caucus and act with that party. Davis, Baker, and Simpson, of Kansas, will as a rule be found in the democratic column of votes on all propositions which are divorced from their peculiar notions of finance. It will be seen that the republicans have made a gain of thirty-six members and the democrats have lost fourteen.

Bishop Hughes Mobbed by Chinese. LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Standard's Shanghai correspondent gives Bishop Hughes' account of a Chinese attack made at Ngantinghsien Shenhi last August upon him and an Englishman belonging to the French Franciscan mission. A horde of fanatics dragged him through a public street, and then, after stoning him, left him for dead. The local officials took steps to punish the ringleaders, but unless the European governments act with vigor there will be no safety for Europeans in China away from treaty ports.

Illinois Official Vote. CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Official returns from all the counties in Illinois except Cook, and accurate returns from the latter, give Cleveland 424,149 votes; Harrison, 397,325; Bidwell, 24,594; Weaver, 20,685. Cleveland's plurality over Harrison in Illinois therefore is 36,824. The official vote in the Eighth district for congressman, where the result has been in doubt, gives the victory to Childs; rep., by a plurality of 17 over Steward, dem. The vote was 20,552 for Childs, 20,535 for Steward, and 1,551 for Kilburn, prohibitionist.

Killed in Court. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 21.—Capt. John G. Bourke, of the Third United States cavalry, who became noted recently for his activity in running down the Garza revolutionists, was shot and killed in the United States court here Saturday morning by Paul Friche, a United States deputy marshal. Bourke was testifying in the investigation that is in progress for the violation of the neutrality laws in the Garza uprising. A portion of his evidence angered Friche, who shot the officer dead before any one could interfere.

Corbett and Jackson Shake. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—For the first time since their celebrated meeting before the California Athletic club Champion Jim Corbett and Peter Jackson, the heavy weight colored fighter, stood face to face in a hotel office in Philadelphia. Peter extended his hand, saying: "Mr. Corbett, I congratulate you on your splendid victory." Corbett replied in a quiet way, thanking Peter. No fighting talk was indulged in.

De Loewe Will Resign. PANAMA, Nov. 21.—Belair states that M. Ferdinand De Loewe will resign the chairmanship of the Panama Canal Co., when the government investigation summons is served on him. M. Loew says will succeed him.
